Fine Art Bronze Conservation & Maintenance

Bronze artworks are timeless material forms meant to be appreciated and enjoyed in all environments; however, these works will only maintain their original appearance as long as they are periodically cared for. Environmental factors will affect the short and long-term stability of outdoor bronze sculptures. We are here to help.

Conservation

At Falls Art Foundry we provide expert restoration services including scheduled cleaning, waxing, re-patination, structural repair and component replacement.

Restoration begins with an evaluation of the work and its surroundings to determine the best approach for its proper care.

Our goal is to understand the original intent of the artist so that we can most faithfully restore a work of art to its original and proper condition.

We highly encourage developing a maintenance program for your artworks. Such a program will provide cost effective treatment, extend the life of the artwork and reduce the need for large scale and costly conservation needs.

Mission

Falls Art Foundry is a fine art lost wax casting and design facility located in the historic Portland neighborhood of Louisville Kentucky. Our business is the production of expertly crafted bronze sculpture for public, private, gallery and museum presentation.

We provide sculptors, designers, and our extended arts community with personal service, high quality casting, and unique educational opportunities. Our craftspeople are skilled artisans, willing and determined to manifest your vision into bronze.

We recognize and appreciate the unique relevance of each artistic design, meticulously reproducing the artist's intent. From the monumental to the minuscule, we deliver.

Vision

For our community to continue to create great visual art, we need to continue to foster great visual artists.

At Falls Art Foundry we envision a welcoming, adaptive, ecologically responsible, high tech, and low tech sculptural arts campus. Supported by our foundry, gallery, and classrooms, with knowledge and opportunity, we serve our community as an invaluable sculptural resource. Our goal is to offer the exposure, tools, and experience for individuals to model the world around them and become our region's next generation of critical and creative innovators.
